

Cast a Long Shadow

(Henry Hipkens 1982)

Time to say it
"I'm over you now"
No more hiding away
But just when I start
To feel the sun in my heart
You cast a long shadow on me

In the morning
I think I'm alright
Skies are sunny and blue
But I just hear your name
And it turns them to rain
You cast a long shadow on me

You cast a long shadow on me
And all of the things I might be
And day after day
Time slips away
A new love might find me
If I could leave you behind me

Whoa..
Don't ever look back
I can say it alright
But in spite of my will
I'm in love with you still
You cast a long shadow on me
You cast a long shadow on me
